HAIR
RENEWER

This standard article is commended with the greatest care
Its effects are as wonderful and durable as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff. It gives the head a cooling, soothing sensation of great comfort, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says: "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality and I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

Price, One Dollar.

Buckingham's Dye

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be rubbed on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectively produces a permanent color, which will neither rub nor wash off.

ARKANSAS.

The State of Arkansas is just now rejoicing in the possession of that luxury so long denied them—the Democratic legislature and State government. Having stood in the background so long the members of the new legislature were naturally ravenous, and they are slushing away in the most vigorous style. Notwithstanding the fact that the State treasury is empty, the legislature has passed a bill suspending the payment of taxes for two years, and has on its files another bill providing for a loan of two and half millions, by means of which it is proposed to run the State government. The general understanding about Little Rock is, that the entire existing State debt of $15,000,000 is to be repudiated, because the bonds representing it are held chiefly at the North, and though it is admitted that this action will depreciate the value of the proposed issue of $2,500,000 new bonds so that they will not be likely to sell for more than fifty cents on the dollar, still it is believed that the scheme will receive the sanction of the legislature and executive.

And this is one of the reforms which "the new order of things" is to bring about in the South.

The lawlessness which prevails in the Scranton coal region of Pennsylvania excites serious apprehensions on the part of a correspondent who has visited that district. In a letter to the New York Herald he explains the reasons why some of the unemployed and destitute men refuse to seek work elsewhere. It seems that a great many of them own the huts in which they live, others own half of the huts, and others have paid for a still smaller portion. In the present depressed state of things it is impossible to find purchasers for the property, no matter at what sacrifice it may be offered for sale. The men are nearly all married and have families, they are naturally unwilling to abandon homes which they own either entirely or partially after years of economy and toil. They remain, therefore, even at the risk of starving. Under these circumstances they have grown desperate, and riots are a daily occurrence. Murders are frequent, thefts and assaults the products of every hour. The few men employed in the mines are compelled to go to and from their work armed with rifles. There is no prospect of work, and the long winter is just opening. With such elements at work, it is no wonder that the Herald correspondent indulges in the most gloomy forebodings.

LEAF BY LEAF.—The banking firm of Henry Clews & Co., of New York, has been adjudged bankrupt. First Jay Cooke & Co., and then Henry Clews & Co., fattened off the bounty of the government, and built up financial reputations upon the strength of their connection with the treasury of the United States, and now both have gone the way of all other adventurers. Who will be the next to speculate and fail upon the credit of Uncle Sam?

THE NEW YORK REPUBLIC wants to know what the Democrats get mad about when the name of Reuben E. Fenton is proposed as a candidate for Senator. The Republic reminds them that he stood on the same platform with the Democracy two years ago.

There must have been a diverting scene in a doctor's office in St. Louis. The physician had been troubled with a non-paying patient, who had for two years neglected a bill of a few dollars. The other day, in balancing his books, the doctor gave it up for lost, and with a polite note made the lady who owed it a present of his services. Accompanied by one male and three female friends, the lady visited the doctor, paid his bill, and ordered the male companion to cow-hide him. The doctor remonstrated by thrashing the breath out of his assailant until he sprained his wrist, when a colored girl, who was engrossed as kitchen maid, appropriately settled his hash with a supplemental pummeling. The ladies retired in great haste, the doctor mildly intimating that but for the unforeseen accident to his wrist, he would have subjected them to that timely correction which, according to appearance, their mothers had neglected in their earlier days. An ungallant, such heretic remedies would be more effectual than any other.

THE TOTAL VOTE for Congressmen in Wisconsin—there being no State ticket in the field this year—is 93,024 for the Republican candidates, and 94,411 for the Opposition. The Republicans, however, carry five of the eight districts, and have a decided majority in the Legislature. Last year the vote for Governor stood: Opposition, $1,635; Republican, 66,221.

LETTER FROM A FARMER.

LONG CREEK, Dec. 1, 1874.
EDITORS REPUBLICAN.—I went down to Decatur, Thanksgiving, and heard the sermon at Stapp's Chapel, by Elder Haynes. It was quite an able production and very cogently read. But I thought it not suited to the occasion, and not altogether founded on facts. He stated that there was an irrepressible conflict being waged in this country between Catholicism and Protestantism, and that the country cannot exist part Catholic and part Protestant.

I am sorry he has so little faith in the American people and the institutions of this Republic. He ought to know that the people rule this country—not religious sects. We have been a nation for almost a hundred years, during that time the people have worshipped God under their own vines and fig trees, according to the dictates of their own consciences, and none have dared to molest or make them afraid. In enforcing this policy we have become a great and powerful nation. What we have done in the past we propose to do in the future, for this land is wide and broad enough to let the people be Protestants, Catholics, Mormons and Infidels, if they want to be. What we propose to have politically is equal rights for all.

He also stated that a Republic cannot exist in a Catholic country. That is a mistake. Look at France and Spain—they are Republics; while Protestant Germany is ruled by a

A FARMER.

MR. JAMES PARTON is nothing if not sensational. A really bright and versatile man, all his efforts in the fields of biography, magazine writing, newspaper correspondence and lyceum lecturing, seem to be pervaded with a tone and air of sensationalism. Having recently failed very conspicuously as a critic and censor of the American press, he has now appeared as the admirer of American politics and public men. In a lecture on "Our Scandalous Politicians" recently delivered in Boston, he represented them as being utterly corrupt, and in order to make the picture appear darker by contrast, he represented private and social life in this country as sound, pure and beautiful. Now the fallacy and sensationalism of this appears on very little reflection. Political parties are composed of individuals. The individuals who compose them are, to a large degree, those who compose the churches and the families who till the soil and do the business of the country. Not only are the persons who give color to politics largely those who give color to social life, but public and private life are so interwoven as scarcely to be separable. It is impossible, therefore, that the private and social life of a people should be healthy, sound and pure, and their politics corrupt. Either it is not true that American politics are utterly corrupt or it is not true that American social life is free from corruption. The former takes it tone and color from the latter, and it is safe to say that just as far as our politics need reforming just so far our social life does also. Whatever of corruption, recklessness or dishonesty there is in public life is full matched by the folly, extravagance and falsehood in private life. In fact, the cases of embezzlement, broaches of trust and commercial infidelity among bank officers and business men, are more frequent in proportion than among government officials. Neither our politics nor our social life are what they ought to be, but it is absurd to claim that one is pure and the other utterly corrupt, for both streams come from the same fountain. True philosophy discards that there is fully as much that calls for reform in the private, social and domestic life of this country, as in its public life.—Indianapolis Journal.

THE WHOLESALE attack made by certain clergymen of New York upon the stage as resulted very differently from the anticipations of these worthy gentlemen. Instead of remaining properly silenced by a realizing sense of their own present depravity and future incandescence, these children of sin have made their assailants a reluctant but highly effectual advertising medium. Thus do the managers of the Grand Opera House appeal to the public for patronage in publishing a novel invitation to all the clergy of the city to come and witness the "Black Crook," as performed at their house. Not only do they offer their seats in the auditorium, but offer to modify the rules of the house so as to allow them behind the scenes, thus giving them every opportunity to judge of the immorality practised in their theatre. This is a very ingenious device. Besides regarding the existence of the "Black Crook" home to everybody in the city, it forces the clergymen either to accept the invitation or to refrain from assailing a subject with the facts of which they refuse to acquaint themselves.

GENERAL SHERMAN is far from being wealthy. Before the war he was worth nothing, and has not accumulated much since. When preparing to leave Washington for St. Louis, he sold his house there for a small sum in cash taking for the rest, unimproved real estate in the city. It is not unlikely that motives of economy had much to do with inducing the change of residence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 2.—Gen. Butler has at last declared himself privately to some of his friends. He tells them that in his opinion the Republican party has cast its last Presidential vote. This disorganization was certain; he is looking forward to other things, and the two great measures upon which he intends to plant himself are protective tariff and paper money. The first with an eye to the East, and the last to catch the West. At first he was sorry he was defeated, but when all the returns came in and he saw the House was Democratic he was glad, for the reason that if he had been returned he would have been constantly attacked, without any position which would have given him a chance to reply.

Southern members arriving are generally united in a determination to call a caucus, and, if possible, commit it to the passage of the civil rights bill. Senator Morton telegraphs that he will start from California to-day, and expects to reach Washington the last of next week.

Mr. Cusay and a number of his friends are here. They are not exactly decided as to the steps they will try to have Congress take. Kellogg desires to receive as direct an endorsement as possible, and the expectation is that they will await the arrival of Senator Morton, and ascertain the chances of the Senate agreeing to the positions as summed up by Morton in the Committee of Privileges and Elections.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 2.—A Courier-Journal special from Mount Sterling, Ky., says it is reported there that John D. White, Republican Congressman from the Ninth Kentucky district, shot and killed Harrison Cockrell, his Democratic competitor in the late election, in Estill county, yesterday. The canvass between these two men was very bitter and personal, and a few days since Cockrell published a card making severe strictures on White. It is probable this card precipitated the difficulty.

The Tweed habes corpus case came before Judge Barron to-day. The prisoner was not in court because of illness, though it is stated he was brought over from the penitentiary last night. After argument the writ was dismissed, and the prisoner remanded and left to his remedy on writ of error.

CONCERNING THE PROSPECT OF A PARTY ARISING IN THE NEAR FUTURE, Harper's Weekly says: "How many Democrats are likely to leave their party to form a new one?" And how many Republicans, having seen their party willing to defeat obnoxious candidates, however regularly nominated, feel that it is necessary to form a new organization? There will be no new party, and the President in 1876 will be chosen either by the Republicans or Democrats.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Steamer La Plata from Gravesend for Rio Grande del Sur, chartered by Siemens Brothers to repair the telegraph cable, founded off Shant on the 29th of November. Sixty persons were drowned; fourteen of the survivors were rescued by Gareeck Glasgow, from a boat in which they had been floating twenty-four hours, and were transferred to the steamer either.

CHICAGO, December 2.—The case of John T. Allen, the clerk of Sprague & Preston, who was arrested yesterday, charged by Assistant Grain Inspector Irwin with having attempted to bribe him to inspect new corn as old, came up before Justice Dewitt, and resulted in an honorable discharge of Allen, as the evidence showed him clearly innocent, and that the conspirator of the corn was evidently the guilty party, neither Allen nor his employers having any knowledge of the attempted bribery.

The captain, surgeon, three other officers, engineer, seven stewards and cooks, eleven clerks, fourteen seamen, and the whole cable staff, numbering sixteen, and including Mr. Rickets, the chief electrician, were drowned.

The chief steward, who was saved, reports that the fire was all out by 10 o'clock in the morning. On the 29th a heavy sea carried away two of the boats. The ship gradually settled, the stern and at 12:30 foundered. The Captain and doctor were on the bridge, having failed to clear the patient life raft, and went down with the crew. The decks bursted as the steamer sank.

THE CAPTAIN AND DOCTOR WERE ON THE BRIDGE, HAVING FAILED TO CLEAR THE PATIENT LIFE RAFT, AND WENT DOWN WITH THE CREW. THE DECKS BURSTED AS THE STEAMER SANK.

The Daily Republican.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS:
Thursday Evening, Dec. 3.

THE DAILY REPUBLICAN will be delivered to subscribers in any part of the city, at Twenty Cents per Week.
Local Notices will be inserted at Ten Cents per line for the first insertion, and five cents per line for each subsequent insertion. Rates for time advertisements will be furnished upon application at the office.

TO DAILY SUBSCRIBERS.

Subscription to the DAILY REPUBLICAN will be received every Saturday, at the place where the paper is delivered, unless otherwise ordered.

We would be much obliged if our subscribers would inform the carrier at what particular place they desire their papers to be left.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

Indicates receives fresh oysters every day.

Quail are plenty and selling at fifty cents per dozen.

Dressed poultry is rather bad stuff to have on hand this warm weather.

Boys have concluded not to slate any more just now.

Almost everybody has a bad cold at present.

Backbones and speeetings at J. Ulrich & Co. ^{W. H. Ulrich}.

Pedestrians usually improved sidewalks and crossings.

The express men in the city report business in their line dull at present.

Passenger trains on all the roads are running very light at present.

A large lot of Bed Quilts and Blankets at EINSTEIN'S. 1-dwt.

Groin and cattle dealers keep buying and dispensing cash to the farmers at a lively rate.

Tailors are kept busy at present mucking to order winter clothing for our citizens.

Niedermeyer keeps the best family flour.

Teamsters are not in the best of humor as long as the roads remain such now are.

Orders for coal are taken at almost all the stores in the city, and are promptly filled by coal dealers.

Choice sugar-cured hams at Jack & Son's.

An anxious public would like to know when the walls is to be improved in front of Palmyra's cigar store.

The work at Ulrich's slaughter and pork-packing houses continues with the usual vigor.

The street corner and dry-goods box brigade was out in full force yesterday, and are keeping up their tick-tock.

A hard freeze while the ground is so full of water at present, would be likely to seriously damage winter wheat.

On account of the bad roads the price of wood has gone up somewhat.

A large lot of envelopes at J. J. Davis & Co's stationery emporium.

Good husbands and obedient boys will take pains to clean their feet thoroughly before going into the house these days.

The scarcity of decent houses to rent is still the subject of complaint on the part of many people trying to find a place to stay.

All lovers of the "weed" should get their cigars and tobacco at Andy Kepler.

Coin slushing is still going on with unusual vigor about Decatur. This furnishes employment for all who are willing to work.

Mud in the country is deeper now than at any previous time this season, and if the warm weather continues it will get no better fast.

Order the St. Nicholas bus when you want to go to the depot.

Prayer meetings at the different churches were quite well attended last night, and were occasions of much interest to those in attendance.

The coal dealers still have a lively trade. The low prices at present are enough to induce many Decaturites to buy in their winter's supply of coal at once.

Peachblow potatoes at E. B. Pratt & Son's.

The building next east of the Magazin and Tribune office is being overhauled and fitted up for a restaurant, and we understand that E. H. Mills is to occupy it when completed.

It is a somewhat singular fact that nearly twice as many passengers leave and take the night trains in this city as take and leave those which pass about the middle of the day.

J. P. Marsh has a fine stock of boots and shoes which he is selling very low, and makes a specialty of custom-work, in which he is not excelled by any workman in Illinois or elsewhere.

Business in the police courts has been rather dull of late, and our justices have not taken in much money; but as the holidays will soon be here, they say that a better time is soon coming.

A large lot of furs just received on consignment, at S. EINSTEIN'S.

The harness dealers in the city report that they never knew trade to be livelier than it is at present. They run an extra force of hands and work them all at night, and even then are pressed to keep up with the orders for harness which come in every day.

Nothing is more conducive to health than to keep the feet dry and warm during the snow and slush of winter. In order to do this be sure to provide yourselves with some of those waterproof overshorts at V. Barber & Co.'s, and also a full outfit for your feet from their splendid stock of boots and shoes. They have goods for winter wear of all varieties and of the latest style.

THE NEW HOSE CARRIAGE.

Almost Money Enough to Pay for it—
Rescue Hose Co. in High Glee.

At a regular meeting of Rescue Hose Co. No. 1, held at the headquarters on West Main street, a full representation of the members of the company was present to hear how much were the receipts from the ball, which was given by this company on Thanksgiving evening. The report was given in soon after the meeting was opened, and was read as follows:

Total receipts, $191.50
Expenses, 56.00

Net receipts, $135.50

This is all that the most sanguine thought could be realized by the ball, and although this sum, added to what is already in the treasury, will not be sufficient to buy the beautiful hose carriage which they have contracted for, the firemen are determined that they will buy it. They will make a raise of the $200 which they still lack, between the present time and next March, when they expect the carriage to be finished. Work has already been commenced on it by the Wayne Bros. of this city, who propose to make it a model for strength, durability and beauty, and to make it well worth the $900 they are to get for the job. The carriage is to be finished off partly with silver, and will be painted up in the finest style. All the members of this company seem determined to have this kind of a carriage, and say that if it becomes necessary to raise money by subscription, even this extreme will be resorted to to raise the money required.

The Wayne Bros. have promised to have the carriage ready for use by March 1st, and the "boys" say that as they will have plenty of time to practice and become used to the new carriage they feel confident they will be prepared to run well and come out first in the contest the next semi-annual parade.

Kid Gloves.—The ladies who have tried Goldburg's kid gloves say they are the best for the money they ever bought before.

Where is the Responsibility?—That there is a fearful amount of drunkenness and debauchery among the young men and boys of Decatur, from the tender age of twelve up to twenty-five, there is no question. This state of affairs places a fearful responsibility somewhere, and the blame is variously charged upon parents, saloon-keepers, associates and friends. Now, while we have no disposition to exculpate any of the above-named parties from any blame that may properly attach to them, and while it is true that saloon-keepers are to blame for much of the evil that exists, and parents often, by their mismanagement of their sons, confirm them in their bad habits rather than reform them, we wish to say to these young men and boys that they are mainly responsible for their course. If they will allow themselves to be tampered with and led astray by any of the evil that results to them from their foolish practices. And we want to say to them that a young man or boy who has not moral stamina enough to resist the influences that seek to lead him astray may as well sell out first as last. The fact is, many of those boys, think it is wonderfully cunning to get drunk occasionally, and curse and swear flippantly, and rather glory than otherwise, in practices that should make them hide their faces for shame. These boys should understand that it takes but a short time to form bad habits, and that when once confirmed in them reformation is generally out of the question. They should also remember that when in coming years they find themselves wrecked and ruined, either through their own carelessness or through the carelessness of their parents, associates, saloon-keepers, or anybody else, will be compelled to realize that they have made themselves what they are by their own foolishness.

WATCH STOLEN.

The Thief Caught and Imprisoned.

On Tuesday morning last Mrs. Dunn, who keeps the Planter's house, found in a bed which was occupied by a young man by the name of Thomas Gillespie, a part of watch-guard which she knew belonged to a watch of her own. This she kept, and at night, when Gillespie came home, she accused him of stealing the watch. This he denied in a confused manner, and at last said he had found the watch Sunday night and had been wearing it since. This story he maintained until after he was arrested and confined in the depot calaboose, when he made a full confession to Marshal Haworth and Policeman Misenthaler, of stealing the watch, saying he had taken it from Jackonville on the noon train, and will visit her cousin's house for a week or two.

Mr. Benjamin Barron left by the 8 o'clock train this morning to pay a visit to friends in Missouri and Colorado. Miss Emma Waggoner, cousin of H. W. Waggoner, Esq., came from Jacksonville on the noon train, and will visit her cousin's house for a week or two.

John Smith has been improving slowly during the past few days, and his physician feels confident that the fever or the disease will be broken up in a day or two, when he will begin to improve rapidly, and be out on the street within a few weeks.

Mr. W. F. Edmundson and family, T. O. Smith and wife, and Peter Schulz all started for California yesterday. Mr. Edmundson intends to "drive his stakes" somewhere in the golden State, but Peter will return to Decatur in about two months. Mr. Smith and wife have their home there already, and return after an absence of six or seven months.

Vocal Music.—A meeting will be held at the Christian Church, on Friday evening, Dec. 4th, at 7:15 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing an amateur choral society.

Games.—The largest assortment of Games for children and grown people ever shown in the city, at LITSINBERGER & SUTTON'S.

Closed Up.—The St. Louis auction men here closed up rather suddenly before last, packed all their goods in a few hours, and had the largest portion of their stock at the depot in time for the opening of the night trains. The firm has been adjudged bankrupt by the United States Court at St. Louis. A small part of their goods has been held by some of their creditors, who are determined to have their claims paid before they will allow all the goods to be taken away.

Berlin Zephyrs, Germantown Yarns, all shades and colors, cheaper than at GOLDBURG'S.

Reward of Merit.—The U. S. Government has given not only to Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, but to his True Flavoring Extracts, the preference, and large quantities are shipped to its military posts. No more, we say, than it deserved, for it truly has proved itself in our family all that we desire, making bread, biscuits, and cakes better than any other we have used, and just so have we found his Flavorings of Lemon, Almond, etc., as pure, natural, and strong as can be made. Try these articles, ladies, and see if you do not find them superior to anything of their kind in the market.
